

Delicious food to tempt tastebuds

TASTE Great Southern will be the ideal time to check out the only bushfood factory in the region.

To celebrate the occasion, the café will be serving a grand opening special on Saturday, February 27.

Run by Swiss couple Claudia and Bjorn Form, the aptly named Bushfood Factory creates homemade food using fresh herbs and spices grown on the 20ha property.

The Bushfood Factory and Café now has two hectares of cultivated edible plants.

Those plants include Myrtle varieties, Lilly Pillies and Muntries, which have some of the highest concentrations of antioxidants known to man.

The Bushfood Factory also has its own range of products.

These include jams, chutneys, soaps and syrups.

Bookings are recommended.
